The first game of the northern trip was played at Barton, Wednesday afternoon. Bishop, who was in the points Barton took the game by the score of 4

The team went from Baaton to Stanstead, Thursday morning, and showed the Canadians a few points on our national game that were new to them. Laird kept the hits well scattered and the excellent support helped St. Johnsbury to a well-earned 5 to 3 victory.

Barton 8, St. Johnsbury 0.

Eleven hits off Laird for a total of 14 bases and the eight errors chalked up against the locals, while Wilder and Barnicle were holding St. Johnsbury to one hit and were getting perfect support, tells the story of Thursday's game. St. Johnsbury plainly showed the effects of their northern campaign and played dopey ball from start to nnish. The game was dull and listless and offered very little entertainment to the fans, who were out in goodly numbers to see their favorites break away from th Barton hoodoo, which has been chasin then, all summer. Not a local ma reached second during the nine mning and in only two innings did more man three face the visiting twirlers.

Wilder pitched superb ball and hele the locals safe at all times. During th six innings he worked, only five ball were sent into the outfield.

The Barton management were ev dently in sympathy with the fans and did what they could to enliven things by sending Barnicle, the ex-Worcester man into the box for the last three innings He had little to do but continue the good work started by Wilder, and any of the ten men who faced him will tel you he made good.

St. Johnsbury 5, Newport 1.

The locals showed their old-time form Saturday and won from Newport 5 to 1. Laird had the visitors guessing all the way and the best they could do with his benders was three hits in as many innings. Davis proved rather easy and was touched up for eight safe ones, three of them two-baggers.

Newport was in a peck of trouble all through the game. They played good ball most of the time, but everything seemed to break against them. They they never lost an opportunity of telling | ing the best ball the pair made a 28.

him so. Another thing which seemed to go against the grain was Hydie's pitching although there was less said about

The locals started the scoring in the second. With two down Smythe smashed out a two-bagger and came home on Skip Carr's pretty single, with the only earned run of the game.

The third went blank on both sides. In the fourth after Pickle had flied out to Smythe, Harrington met one on the nose and sent it out for two bags. for Barton, allowed but four hits, and Chapman sacrificed him to third and he tallied on Kimball's error. Laird sent the slumber dope over to Davis and St. Johnsbury's troubles were over.

It was good and fast ball from then until the Newport lads went into the air in the seventh. In their half Mayhew, the first man up, sent out a single and went to second on a fielder's choice by With two on bases H. Maloney sent one to Hill, which the latter fumbled. Mayhew, who was on his way to third, was given out for interference. Protests were entered but the arbitrator overruled them and the game went merrily on. G. Maloney popped one to Hill and again Newport's chances were spoiled. The wrangle evidently had a bad effect on the visitors and started them on the air line. In St. Johnsbury's half Moore started off with a single and stole second. Hill was out on a foul fly. Tinker singled, advancing Moore and both men scored on LaRue's fumble of Higgins' grounder, while Higgins was safe on the first corner. Ferguson sent the "big un" down with a pretty single and both advanced on Smythe's sacrifice. Both men scored on Chapman's error and Laird took the count, leaving Carr

McLam Reunion.

Wednesday, Aug. 19, was a gala day at "Fairview," the nome of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McLam when by special in-vitation about one hundred and ten McLams and descendants of the Mc-Lam's with their families, from the children of a few months to seventy years of age, not only from Ryegate and adjoining towns but a goodly number from New Hampshire and Massachusetts, gathered to renew old acquaintance and to form new ones also. All were invited to the grove near the pond where provision had been previously made and shortly after 12, at the call of the host the long table was quickly filled and such a dinner one seldom has an opportunity to enjoy, the table being heavily laden with the best that the land affords, to which all did justice although some of us may have done ourselves injustice. In the afternoon the time was pleasantly occupied with speaking interspersed with music (A. W. McLam's family furnishing several selections). J. R. McLam of Topsham acted as chairman and also gave quite a history of their ancestry. Short yet interesting addresses were listened to, the speakers being W. T. McLam of Concord, N.
